MAKING THE ROUNDS

The grand opening of The Greenbrier Resort's Casino Club featured an eclectic group of guests including Tom Watson, Charles Barkley, Jack Nicklaus, Jennifer Garner, Ben Affleck, Jessica Simpson, Brooke Shields, Lionel Richie, Shaquille O'Neal, Jane Seymour, Debbie Reynolds and Raquel Welch. The Washington Post reports that some of the bigger names received "very nice" appearance fees of $100,000 or more, according to one of the celebrity wranglers at the party. The Greenbrier also was host to the PGA Tour's Greenbrier Classic. . . Jimmy Dunne set the Shinnecock Hills members' course record in July by shooting 63 from the green tees (6,248 yards) on the par-70 course, site of four U.S. Opens. Golf World's Tim Rosaforte reports that Dunne, 53, the 2008 club champion, made five birdies and his second career hole-in-one (with an 8-iron from 146 yards at the 11th hole). A 4-handicapper before the 63, Dunne bettered his previous low at Shinnecock by seven shots and broke the previous record of 64 set by his friend, Billy Edwards.

. . . Headline on thebiglead.com on the contract negotiations between the NFL's No. 1 draft pick, Sam Bradford, and the St. Louis Rams: Sam Bradford Wants Elin Woods Money. Bradford is also a heck of a
